

Epson EH-R4000

DATASHEET

Experience colour and detail like you've never seen before with the Epson EH-R4000 Full HD projector.

The EH-R4000 features Epson's new 3LCD reflective panel technology, which produces deeper blacks, brighter whites, and lush, lifelike colours across the spectrum for the ultimate cinematic experience.

To satisfy those wanting the best HD images possible, the projector uses a Hollywood Quality Video (HQV) processor to achieve a huge dynamic contrast ratio of 1,000,000:1 – so every detail is perfectly resolved, even in very dark scenes.

Other picture-enhancing features include frame interpolation for smooth motion and fluid action sequences; super resolution to increase the quality of standard definition sources, such as DVDs; and five different colour modes to suit a variety of environments and applications.

Set-up is fast and fuss-free thanks to the motorised zoom and lens. The EH-R4000 can be controlled over a network, and can operate other equipment, such as Blu-ray players, from its remote. It also features trigger-out to power equipment such as electronic screens. This provides the user with control of a whole cinema room with one remote.

While its stunning picture quality will command your full attention, the EH-4000's sleek black design will all but disappear in the darkness of your cinema room.
